MR. LILLEY ENDORSED

Lincoln Party Congressional Conference Named Him.

MEETING AT TUNKHANNOCK.

Full Text of the Resolutions Adopted Unanimously, After Bradford County's Delegates Had Withdrawn—Summary of Proceedings.

The Lincoln Party Congressional conference for the Fourteenth district, composed of Bradford, Susquehanna, Wayne, and Wyoming counties, met at Tunkhannock on Thursday, at the same time as the Democratic conference which nominated George W. Kipp of Towanda, for the same office. Hon. Mial E. Lilley of Towanda, received the endorsement of the conference. The Lincoln party of Susquehanna county, held their county convention that day, and the conferees did not arrive in Tunkhannock until after 6 o'clock. The conference met at 8 o'clock, and after the preliminary organization the six conferees from this county withdrew. The following resolutions and statement were adopted, and explain the situation:

"We, the regular conferees of the Lincoln Party of the Fourteenth Congressional district of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in conference assembled, do this 20th day of September, 1906, point with pride to the magnificent record of our eminent President, Theodore Roosevelt. We cordially approve of the reform movement in Pennsylvania under the leadership of Lewis Emery, Jr.

"We realize that the causes and conditions which necessitated the organization of the Lincoln Party have no bearing upon national issues. We especially desire that our chief executive should be heartily supported in the halls of congress. His personal appeal for the return of the Republican congress has strongly impressed us. We therefore pledge our cordial support to the Hon. Mial E. Lilley of Towanda, in his campaign for re-election.

"We deplore the fact that the conferees of Bradford county have withdrawn from this conference after having participated in its organization. This conference was called by J. L. Dyer, chairman of the Lincoln party county committee of Bradford county. In sending notices to the chairman of the Lincoln party county committees of Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming counties he stated: 'As we have no rules governing the matter the conferees may be appointed in any manner you may deem best. You may appoint yourself if you wish and sign your own credentials.' In accordance with the said suggestion conferees were elected at a convention at Montrose for the county of Susquehanna and conferees were appointed by the chairman of the Lincoln party county committee of Wayne and Wyoming counties. The conferees of Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming counties met with the conferees of Bradford county at the Keeler House in Tunkhannock on the above mentioned date and organized by the election of Dr. H. V. Frink of Susquehanna county, as chairman, and L. E. Tiffaney of Susquehanna county, and S. R. Brunges of Wyoming county, as secretaries. After the organization one of the conferees from Bradford county, J. T. McCollum, stated that the conferees of Bradford county would not sit with those representing Wayne and Wyoming and another of the conferees from Bradford county, E. J. Connelley, stated in substance that the Bradford conferees would not have Mr. Lilley as a candidate. This in spite of the fact that Mr. Lilley's name had not been mentioned by any other conferee and thereupon the conferees from Bradford county withdrew from the conference and the remaining conferees representing the other three counties and constituting more than a quorum proceeded with the business of the conference and nominated Hon. Mial E. Lilley as their party's candidate for congress.

"We are unwilling to believe that the gentlemen who purported to represent Bradford county reflect the sentiment of the Lincoln party in that county. We believe that the Lincoln party, more than anything else, stands for the principles represented by President Roosevelt, and we call upon the members of the Lincoln party in the Fourteenth congressional district to rally to his support and assist in returning to congress a member who will support a Republican for speaker of the House and vote for the legislation desired by the president, and we firmly believe that the record of the Hon. Mial E. Lilley shows him to be such a member.

"We invite the careful consideration of the fair minded citizens of the Fourteenth Congressional district to the following statement of facts which cannot be contradicted. This conference was called by J. L. Dyer, the chairman of the Lincoln Party committee of Bradford county. The conferees were selected in the manner suggested by him, except in Susquehanna county, where they were elected. The conferees from Bradford county were appointed by the chairman and their title to seats rests on no higher ground than that of the conferees from any other county. The calling of the Lincoln Party Congressional conference upon the same day and place as the Democratic Congressional conference was for the express purpose of attempting to secure an endorsement from the Lincoln Party of the Democratic nominee and the conferees from Bradford county, viz., J. L. Dyer, E. J. Connelley, J. L. Ellsbree, G. M. Coons, J. T. McCollum, and George S. Curtiss, were appointed with that end in view, while the conferees from the other three counties were chosen with a view of having the conference take such action as would reflect credit upon the Lincoln party in the district and none of them were pledged to the support of any particular candidate.

"After the conference had been called Dr. O. H. Rockwell of Monroeton, the state chairman for the Lincoln party in this district wrote to the chairman of the Lincoln party in Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming counties informing them that an effort would be made to secure the endorsement of the Lincoln party for a Democrat and urging them to oppose any such action.

"The conference was organized under the rules of the Republican party, giving Bradford county six conferees, Susquehanna county four, Wayne county four, and Wyoming county two. The Bradford county conferees participated in the organization of the conference and were present when the president and two secretaries were elected and when they discovered that the conference would not endorse the Democratic nominee they withdrew, and the conferees from the other three counties unanimously endorsed Hon. Mial E. Lilley as member of congress for the Fourteenth Congressional district of Pennsylvania."

After withdrawing from the conference the Bradford county delegates held a conference by themselves and endorsed Mr. Kipp, the Democratic nominee. It is stated that this nomination paper was taken that night to Harrisburg to be filed.

VINE TERRY KILLED.

Struck by Lehigh Locomotive in Towanda Yards Saturday Night.

J. Vine Terry, 25 years old and son of John Terry of New Albany, was struck and instantly killed by a Lehigh Valley freight engine in the Towanda yards Saturday night about 10 o'clock, the fatality occurring near the Meredith Bottling works, at almost the identical spot where Charles Sage was killed some time ago. Young Terry sat on the tracks, probaly asleep and did not get up when the engine approached. The forward trucks passed over his body before the train was stopped, almost completely severing the young man's left foot at the ankle, and breaking his neck.

The local night freight was in charge of Engineer John McGovern of Towanda; he, as well as DeWitt Benjamin, a brakeman, who was on the forward part of the engine, saw the man sitting on the track, but both men supposed he would move as he heard the ringing bell and noise of the wheels. As the locomotive drew nearer, Benjamin shouted at the silent form, and then seeing the situation, called and signalled the engineer to stop, but the signal was too late. Benjamin says that young Terry tried to get up but fell back. The body was removed to Campbell's undertaking rooms, and the local authorities notified the Terry family, at New Albany, by telephone. John Terry, the father, drove to Towanda, and made arrangements for the removal of the body to the young man's home, from where the funeral was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Fame and Notoriety.

P. T. Barnum, one of the cleverest advertisers the world knew in his time, used to declare: "I don't care what people say about me as long as they say something." But he was in the show business. It would have made a great deal of difference to him whether people spoke well or ill of him if he had been engaged in trade. A successful business house is not built on notoriety, but on fame. Any merchant can make himself notorious without investing a cent in newspaper space. Fame is to be acquired only by persistent publicity backed up by honest dealing.—Philadelphia Record.

Johnson Case Appealed.

The writ from the supreme court in the Charles Johnson murder case was filed Tuesday in the Bradford county clerk's office. The writ is returnable Oct. 29 at Pittsburg, and if the court which sits at that place shall adjourn before reaching the Johnson matter, then the case will be heard in Philadelphia, where the court is next in session. The scene of action in this now famous case is again shifted from Bradford county to the court of appeals.

GREAT COUNTY FAIR

Fifty-Fourth Exhibition of the Bradford County Society

ALL CLASSES ARE WELL FILLED.

Over One Hundred and Forty Individual Exhibitors—Race Entries Are Unusually Numerous and Good Sport is Promised—No Wedding.

The fifty-fourth annual exhibition of the Bradford County Agricultural society is now "in full blast" on the large and well arranged grounds of the society in East Towanda. With respect to county fairs it goes without saying that more depends on weather conditions than on anything else. If the weather is right exhibitors and sight-seers will come in good numbers and if the weather is wrong they will stay at home. Certainly the weather clerk was kindly disposed Tuesday, the opening day, and sent a clear sky, a bright sun and a bracing atmosphere. All the indications are that he means as well for the next two or three days, and if so look out for record-breaking crowds to-day and tomorrow. The roads are good. There is some dust, but dust is just 100 per cent. better than rain.

Tuesday veryone was busy making their entries and getting the exhibits into shape. President McCabe and Secretary Park, with their numerous assistants and heads of departments had their hands full. They handled the crowd well and by afternoon had begun to bring order out of chaos, so that next morning the "great Bradford county fair" in all its splendor and magnificence is "on," and "here you are for the fair ground, goin' right over!"

The entries closed Tuesday at 2 o'clock with about 140 exhibitors—slightly in excess of last year. This number of exhibitors represents in the aggregate several hundred entries, possibly near a thousand, and foretells a large exhibit. In quality a show that will compare favorably with any of its predecessors is prophesied.

Wednesday the judges awarded the premiums and this was completed by the close of the day's exhibit. It is with sincere regret annaunced that the promised fair ground wedding has failed to materialize. Cupid is shy, or ill, or indifferent, or gone on a vacation, or gone out of business, or something. Anyway no couple has come forward and offered themselves and all those handsome presents have failed to tempt.

Among the exhibitors in the various classes are the following:

Horses.

W. A. Barnes, Towanda; B. N. Boardman, Rome; C. B. Tyrrell, Athens; L. E. Arnold, Ulster; Henry Barnes, Towanda; George Heverly, Sayre; W. H. Rockwell, Ulster; Geo. Lewis, West Pittston; Ephriam Leonard, Ulster; A. B. McCraney, Towanda; Ziba Carter, Laceyville; A. C. Arnold, Athens; George Lewis, Ulster; F. W. Terry, Wyalusing; W. H. Newman, Warren Center; J. J. Zern, Towanda; Wyson Percherson Horse Co., Wilawanna; Josiah Vickers, Mansfield; F. P. Vannoy, East Troy; H. M. Rutty, North Towanda; Irwin Platt, Towanda; Dr. C. L. Pratt, Towanda; J. N. Newell, Sheshequin; Dr. Means, Towanda; Dr. E. Henry Lane, Towanda; William Kirwan, Towanda; O. H. Lawrence, Waverly; J. S. Hankinson, Wysox; P. J. Grimes, Wysox; A. J. Frutchey, Rummerfield; Mrs. George Dayton, Towanda; C. M. Camp, Ulster; Belgian Horse Breeders' association; Shep Bristol, Towanda; Frank Archer, Towanda; E. J. Atwood, LeRaysville; and Walter Alger, Rome.

Cattle.

C. M. Camp, Ulster; J. R. Coolbaugh, Wysox; C. J. Eastabrook, Rummerfield; N. J. Roe, Wysox; Leon Vannoy, East Troy; F. P. Vannooy, East Troy; Robert Templeton, Ulster; F. D. Kerrick, Durell; L. E. Arnold, Ulster; C. B. Tyrrell, Athens; F. N. Boardman, Rome; Allis Brothers, Wysox; D. V. Clark, Wysox; Job Griffin, Towanda.

Sheep and Swine.

C. M. Camp, Ulster; C. S. Davis, Rome; F. J. Daugherty, Rummerfield; C. F. Giles, Appalachin, N. Y.; Robert Templeton, Ulster; W. C. Taylor, Brooklyn, Pa.; W. H. Johns, East Troy; F. D. Kerrick, Durell; J. G. Kerrick, Durell; L. E. Arnold, Ulster.

Poultry, Pets, Etc.

C. S. Davis, Rome; C. F. Giles, Appalachin; J. H. Hawes, Towanda; Hamilton Jarvis, Towanda; R. E. Huntley, North Towanda; N. J. Roe, Wysox; Leon Vannoy, East Troy; F. P. Vannoy, East Troy; W. C. Taylor, Brooklyn; George Ridgeway, Wysox; L. A. Harris, Milan; Jacob Ball, Towanda; Mrs. C. M. Evans, Towanda; Allis Brothers, Wysox; S. S. Strickland, Towanda; John Allen, Rome; Wert Brown, Wysox.

Agricultural Hall.

In agricultural hall, superintnedent C. J. Eastabrooks, was in attendaance. The showing here is not as large as in some former years, but surely in quality and excellence it will stand comparison with any that have gone before. Wysauking grange, No. 58, is the only grange that makes an exhibit. The others are individual entries. This grange makes a full and most creditable show of farm products—vegetables, grains, fruits, and most everything that is raised on the farm. It is excellent. Next in extent to that of Wysauking grange is the one of C. B. Eastabrook of South Hill. He shows more than 40 different varieties of potatoes, a hive of bees, a beautiful display of beeswax, honey, maple sugar, syrup and many other things. Exhibits in this department were also made by M. W. Parks, Robert Brown, Mary Daugherty, and George Ridgeway of Wysox; G. G. Allis of South Hill, L. W. Towner of Rome, and many others whom we cannot mention. Mr. Lester of Troy, has the DeVal cream separator. The exhibit of butter is very small. There were a few good exhibits. The trouble with the butter exhibit is that the farmers all go to the creameries now, and the creameries don't show at the fair. Therefore no butter show at the fair, and Bradford county is one of the foremost butter producing counties in the state.

Fine Cattle Shown.

More horses are entered this year than ever before; C. D. Horton is the superintendent. Among the fine stallions shown are those owned by the Belgian Horse Breeders' association, Wilawana Percheron Horse company, and the Wysox Percheron Horse company. Z. Z. Zurn of Towanda township, also exhibited a very fine stallion, a percheron, two years old. Among the trotting horses, those owned by James Kinney, Dr. D. L. Pratt, Dr. L. G. Marshall, and H. H. Northrup, each attract a great deal of attention. William Kerwin shows a number of ponies and Dr. C. S. Means, a donkey. Of the cattle department, Robert Templeton is superintendent, and among the exhibits are 13 head of Ayrshires, shown by Mr. Templeton; F. D. Kerrick shows about the same number of Durhams; a fine herd of Jerseys is shown by F. P. Vannoy. There is not as many cattle on exhibition as last year, but some fine specimens are among those shown.

A fine Holstein bull three years old, weighing 2,000 pounds, is shown by C. J. Eastabrooks of Rummerfield.

C. W. Stevens has charge of the sheep and swine. W. H. Johnson of East Troy, exhibits 11 head of Von Homeyer Rambouillett sheep which attract a great deal of attention. The two rams were valued at $500 apiece, and one of them took second premium at the St. Louis exposition. C. S. Davis of Rome, shows some fine Southdowns; C. F. Giles of Apalchan, fine Shropshires; Robert Templeton a fine herd of Berkshires.

In Poultry Hall.

The poultry exhibit is large and varied. E. E. Chubbuck is the superintendent, and prominent among the exhibits are C. S. Davis's fine geese. F. J. Green of Wysox, shows a pen of foxes which attracts considerable attention. N. J. Roe of Wysox, has some bull dog pups on exhibition. Allis Brothers, Wysox, and S. S. Strickland, Towanda, each show a large number of poultry. The show of geese and turkeys is unusually good. Some very nice fox terriers are also on exhibition in the poultry building.

In farm machinery J. G. Vought of Nichols, N. Y., shows an eight horse power portable engine, a six horse power self contained engine, a three horse power self contained engine, and a two horse power engine. He also shows a manure spreader and a cream separator. R. M. Welles shows an ensilage cutter and blower in operation. L. L. Sterling shows Empire grain drills. L. F. Marcy of New Albany, the Sharpless separators and S. W. Lester of Troy, the De LaVal.

The Ladies' Pavillion.

W. H. Smith of Towanda, is the superintendent in the ladies' building. Matters there were somewhat incomplete yesterday but now they are all right. One of the best shows in this building is that of H. L. Holcombe of Towanda, who exhibits fine china and souvenir postal cards. The postal cards are principally views of Towanda and in colors and comic postals. He has a dish of handsome gold fish. M. C. Welles of Towanda, exhibits pianos, organs, sewing machines, graphophones, etc. Frances Bull of East Towanda, who is 12 years old, shows some fine paintings and West Wysox school has some fine maps and exhibits of writing books. Mrs. J. Eppes Wells of Tioga, shows a number of her fine paintings and the Philadelphia Record has a news stand. Turner's Drug store has a fine exhibit and there are some good crayon sketches by other exhibitors. There is a good showing of ladies' fancy work in the way of fine shirt waists, sofa pillows, handkerchiefs, bed spreads, rugs and a thousand other things that a man don't know anything about.

Mrs. Harry L. Green of East Towanda, exhibits some water color pictures and a very fine oil painting of a

FATHER KELLY DEAD.

Venerable Priest Passed Away In Philadelphia Last Week.

HIS WORK IN THIS PARISH.

For Twenty-three Years He Labored in Towanda in Charge of the Church of SS. Peter and Paul—St. Agnes Parochial School His Monument.

Dispatches were received here on Wednesday of last week stating that Father Kelly, the former well known and well beloved pastor of SS. Peter and Paul's parish, had breathed his last, his death occurring at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, at St. Joseph's hospital in Philadelphia, where, as has been told in this newspaper, he has been for some time suffering from an illness from which it was feared from the first he could scarcely recover.

The Rev. Charles F. Kelly, D.D., was, for 23 years pastor of this parish, during which time he did a work that made him a marked man in religious and educational circles of Pennsylvania and Southern New York. He left here in March, 1899, to spend two years in a noviate, preparatory to again entering his old order, the Society of Jesus, sailing for Roehampton, near Windsor Castle, England.

A Worthy Life.

Charles F. Kelly, D.D., was born in county Tyrone, Ireland, on Jan. 26, 1829. When he was 11 years of age he came to Philadelphia and attended school in that city. He was among the first seven who started Villanova college. He entered the ecclessiastical seminary at Philadelphia in March, 1845, and after spending about two years in that institution was enrolled as a member of the Society of Jesus, in January, 1847. Father Kelly after this taught for some years in the colleges of Georgetown and Baltimore. He pursued his studies in theology both in this country and abroad, taking courses at Georgetown, Rome and Lourain, Belgium. He was ordained priest in Rome in 1859, and returned to America in 1861. He then taught rhetoric and other branches at Worcester, Mass., Baltimore and Georgetown. He entered the diocese of Scranton in Nov.ember, 1873, and on Feb. 11, 1876, came to Towanda where he labored for 23 years.

On his return from England Father Kelly was appointed a spiritual director in St. Joseph's college, Philadelphia, where he resided until his death. For the past several years he had been in ill health and in St. Joseph's hospital much of the time.

In Towanda Father Kelly wrought a great work. The present church was completed, the home of the Sisters of Mercy acquired, the St. Agnes school built and the affairs of the parish, always a large one and for many years of his pastorate covering nearly the whole of the county, brought to a state of great prosperity.

A good man and a well beloved servant of God has been called to his reward.

The body of the late Rev. Father Kelly was laid in state in St. Joseph's church, Philadelphia, on Wednesday, and mass was held on Thursday morning and on Friday. The funeral services were held in the Church of the Gesu, Eighteenth and Stiles streets, Friday morning.

A low mass was celebrated at 8 o'clock, after which the body of the deceased priest was viewed by his parishioners, who filled the little church in which Father Kelly had so lovingly and faithfully ministered to them. The body was later taken to the Church of the Gesu, where Father Byrone celebrated a second low mass of requiem.

The church was draped in black and the sanctuary was filled with dignitaries. The body law in a plain black casket, surrouned by ferns. The buard of honor consisted of the officers of the battalion of St. Joseph's college, and one of these, who had known Father Kelly all his life, fainted and had to be carried from the church. The dead priest was clad in the vestments of the mass and hands clasped the golden chalice that he had used for so many years.

The divine office was sung at 10 o'clock by prelates and priests. Among the latter were Bishop Hoban, of Scranton, in whose diocese Father Kelly had held a charge for several years; Bishop Prendergast, Monsignor Fisher and Monsignor Garvey. Archbishop Ryan gave the absolution to the body. The church was filled with relatives and friends. Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery.

Palmer's Big Deal.

L. M. Palmer, for some years president of the Pennsylvania Stave and Heading company, will erect at $75,000 stave and heading plant at Roulette, Potter county. He has purchased the hardwood timber on the 9,000 acre tract of the Central Pennsylvania Lumber company, located on Startwell and Fishing creeks, and also timber on an 8,000 acre tract near Port Allegany.

FURTHER TROUBLE MAY BE BREWING.

Italians at Wysox Make Extensive Purchases of Firearms in Towanda.

Following the disturbance of last week at Wysox, when the Italians went on the warpath, and shot down one of their overseers, a number of the foreigners came from Wysox to Towanda Thursday and made purchases of firearms and weapons of all sorts. The Lehigh special officers and Constable McCracken of Towanda, who has joined their forces, were notified of these purchases of the foreigners and went again to Wysox Thursday, where further trouble was feared.

Although the report that an Italian had been shot through the shoulder, and seriously wounded was confirmed, it was impossible to locate the wounded man or to learn positively who did the shooting. The man who is alleged to have fird the shots got away on a passing freight train; in addition to the man brought here by McCrackn, however, it is expcted that further arrests will be made before the end of the week.

The Dove of Peace.

When on of the street doves flew upon and perched on his shoulder as he was making out a warrant Tuesday Justice Meredith took the omen to man that he was soon to go fishing, and the sign came true, for the arm of the law spent an hour or two on the river, dividing his time between watching his line and watching out for the game wardens, who are now said to frequent the river bank in large numbers seeking whom they may devour. It must be the cool weather, but whatever the reason, the fathered creatures were much inclined to come indoors yesterday and take up abode with their human friends. A sparrow settled on Officer Guy Hollon's shoulder as he stood at his open window. The little bird may have been under the impression that Hollon was a family tree, for when he drew his shoulder into the office, the airy creature did not offer to fly away, until caught. It was immediately released ,none the worse for the adventure.

Successful Celebration.

It is estimated that 25,000 people from the surrounding counties visited Binghamton during the last two days of the Broome county centennial last week. The celebration, which was spoiled one day by rain, was held over one additional day, the exercises being brought to a close Saturday night in a blaze of glory. Towanda was well represented, several former Binghamton people, now in Pennsylvania, going back for the big event. The celebration was successful in every way.

Camp Meeting Methods.

The Schuylkill Valley Ministerial association met at Pottstown on Monday and after some discussion on the question of the spiritual good which follows the holding of camp meetings decided that modern methods at camp meetings cannot be improved.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. I. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. in Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on Postal Card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing, in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

Her Husband's Book.

"James, dear, will you bring me up a scuttle of coal from the cellar?" said a busy wife.

"That's just the way with you," said James, with a frown, as he put down his book and rose from the armchair.

"Just the way with me?"

"Yes!" he snapped. "As soon as you see me enjoying myself you have something or other for me to do. Didn't you see I was absorbed in my reading?"

"Well, dear, I will do it myself."

"Yes, and tell everybody, your mother especially, that you have to carry your own coal up from the cellar. No, I'll do it. Let me mark my place."

So he marked the place in the book at which he had ceased reading, and when he went down to the cellar, grumbling all the way, she picked up the volume and found it was a love story and that the passage he had been absorbed in was as follows:

"My darling, when you are my wife I will shield and protect you from every care. The winds of heaven shall not visit your face too roughly; those pretty hands shall never be soiled by menial tasks; your wish shall be my law; your happiness"—

Just then he reappeared and, dropping the scuttle upon the floor, said:

"There's your coal! Give me my book."—Tit-Bits.

Man and His "Galluses."

The "gallus" marks the freeman and the man of genuine, unpretending culture and civilization. Your snob and your savage abhor it. In Mesopotamia the wild bashi bazouk wears a belt; in Yucatan the Indian wears a girdle of shark's teeth; in Senegambia the shameless cannibal sports a gunny sack; in Atlantic City some years back the dudes used to wear sashes. But find a man who when he throws off his coat to begin his daily toil lays bare a pair of heavy sky blue galluses and you'll find a man who pays his way in the world, loves his wife, rears his children in the fear of the Lord and votes the straight ticket. The "gallus" is useful, it is graceful, and properly adorned with hand painted flowers and brass buckles it is beautiful. To be ashamed of it, to conceal it or to abandon it for a somber leather belt is to fail in an essential of true manhood and fly in the face of fate.—Baltimore Sun.

The Unicorn.

The unicorn was one of the fabled monsters of antiquity. It was, according to a summary of the opinions of several of the old time writers, a beast about the size of a common horse, but with very short legs. The people of the middle ages believed in the existence of three kinds of unicorns—the magnificent white unicorn, which had a purple face and blue eyes and a single horn a yard in length; the eglisserion, which resembled a gigantic deer and had a very sharp horn growing from the middle of the forehead, and the monoceros, or common unicorn. The white unicorn's horn was of three different colors—white at the lower part, black as ebony in the middle and red at the point. Common unicorns were said to have had horns about eighteen inches in length, but so strong that they could easily kill an elephant.

Clock Inscriptions.

In former times it was the custom of clockmakers to inscribe on the dial plates of their clocks quaint verses, one of the most common being the following:

I serve thee here with all my might
To tell the hours by day, by night.
Therefore example take by me
To serve thy God as I serve thee.

Another favorite inscription was "Tempus Fugit," or "Time Flies," and thereby hangs a tale. A well known English clockmaker who flourished toward the close of the last century, on being asked by a customer whether a certain clock was of home manufacture, replied: "Oh, certainly. Don't you see the name, sir—Tummas Fugit? I often have his clocks through my hands."

Owners of straw hats have a moral and legal right to use them until the close of Summer the official date of which this year is Sept. 23, the exact hour being 6:15 p. m. of said day.

President Stensland and Cashier Hering are each vehemently accusing the other of looting that Chicago bank and there's a heap of corroborative evidence to show that both are correct.

In view of the latest election returns, it is difficult to tell whether President Roosevelt with his spelling reform, or Mr. Bryan with his government ownership idea made the greater hit—or whether they both got hit.

One superiority of Prof. Langley's aeroplane over that concocted by Santos Dumont is that the former invariably deposited its engineer in the water, thus sparing him the hard knocks incident to being dumped on land.

The county superintendent of public instruction is to be congratulated upon the excellent talent he has secured, and the fine program prepared for the annual county institute to be held next month, at which hundreds of teachers will be present.

In his "Confessions of a Drone," Joseph Medgill Patterson, the millionaire Socialist, laments because the wealth produced by workingmen has "by some hocus pokus been transferred to me." Why not transfer it back, instead of gabbling about it?

In the course of a recent trial for counterfeiting, an expert declared that there was an easy way of detecting counterfeit silver coin; it was to "take the suspected coin between the forefinger and thumb of the left hand, and a good coin in the same manner in the right hand, and rubbed the milled edges of the coins sharply together, when the metal of the spurious coin would almost immediately shave off." He also complained that the authorities at the mint coined the crown and three-penny piece with smooth edges, which prevented the application of this test. z

The railroad companies are beginning to realize that the new anti-rebate law will illustrate the proverb that "It is an ill wind that blows good to nobody." If they can maintain the present rates, free from rebates, the gains to the Southwestern lines alone is estimated by one member of the Interstate Commerce commission at not less than $25,000,000 a year. The other lines will gain correspondingly. The result, however, may be a reduction of rates to shippers who have not been allowed rebates, which would leave the aggregate earnings of the roads substantially the same as at present.

BAN ON DECEPTIVE LABELS.

There must be no more deceptive labels on canned goods. The secretary of agriculture has given notice that anything savoring of a false or deceptive name will not be tolerated, and no picture, design or device giving any false indication of origin or quality will be permitted, as, for example, the picture of a chicken upon the label of a veal or pork product. Geographical names are allowed only with the words "cut," "type," "brand" or "style," except upon foods produced or manufactured in the district named. For instance, "Virginia Ham" must be marked "Virginia style ham." Frankfurter sausage will be "Frankfurter style sausage." The word "ham" alone is considered to mean pork ham, but ham trimmings, used for potted meats or sausage, may be known as "potted ham," or "ham sausage." The rules clearly define what constitutes pure lard, but prescribe that a substitute composed of lard, stearine or other animal fat and vegetable oil may be labeled "lard compound." Among the restrictions are: Picnic hams cannot be called "hams," but may be called "picnics" or "picnic shoulders;" extract of beef must be actually made from beef, and veal loaf must be made of veal only. Manufacturers are warned that the rulings do not exempt them from the enforcement of state laws.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST.

President Roosevelt wants a congress of his own party to back him through the remainder of his administration. He must have this support if he is to succeed in securing the enactment of important legislation which he has asked congress to pass. He has never had the least leaning to the opposition for the accomplishment of any good work. If they will work with him well and good, but he declines to have anything to do with them by way of political arrangement to carry the elections. The President will warmly urge the election of every Republican nominated for congress in this state. He will as cordially support Congressman Lilley as any other nominee of his party.

George W. Kipp, a most estimable citizen of this town, has been nominated by the Democrats of this congressional district for congress, and we are assured that he will accept the nomination. His many friends in Towanda and throughout the district will regret that he has consented to listen to the song of the Democratic siren until he has been persuaded to enter the political field as a candidate against Mr. Lilley. They regret it because it is deplorable that a man of so many admirable qualities as Mr. Kipp should be deluded into chasing Democratic rainbows and after spending time and money in that chimerical pursuit go down into disastrous and overwhelming defeat. In saying this we speak advisedly. Mr. Kipp will be defeated. A month ago he had a fighting chance. Today none whatever. Many Republicans who four weeks ago without due consideration, had decided, for one cause or another to vote for him, are today loyally and actively working for the success of the Republican candidate.

Mr. Kipp's only hope of success was through Republican defection. He was made to believe that the Lincoln Republicans of the district would endorse his candidacy and vote for him. They have already refused to endorse him as a party and it is now thought that a large majority of their votes will be cast for the Republican candidate, where they naturally belong. It is true that a committee composed for the most part of political enemies of the Republican candidate to whom the power of making a nomination for the Lincoln party had been delegated, did attempt to commit that organization to an endorsement of Mr. Kipp. The attempt failed, however, as it deserved to fail. But if it had succeeded it would not have influenced any considerable number of Republicans to support a Democrat for congress.

Why should Lincoln Republicans fuse with Democrats against a Republican candidate for congress? Voting for congress must be on national issues which distinguish party policies and for Lincoln Republicans to join hands with Democrats to defeat a congressman of Mr. Lilley's ability and usefulness would be contrary to the policy which it is well understood the Lincoln party has adopted in the congressional districts, and which is intended to take national politics out of the state fight. The Lincoln party voters are Republicans and it is altogether natural that they should prefer to support Republican candidates for congress. This they are doing in other congressional districts in this state and this they will do in this the Fourteenth district.

OUTRIVALLING NATURE.

Observing the work of the construction being carried forward here and elsewhere round about us, one can not but marvel at the uses found for and the enduring qualities claimed for that curious composition which we call cement.

This has been called the iron and steel age, the electric age, and so on, and apparently is reaching the point where with equal propriety it may be called the cement age. The developments in the direction of large use of cement are marvelous, considering the comparatively brief period in which the progress has been brought about. It would hardly seem possible that cement has come to be a practicable substitute for brick and even for lumber, yet such is the fact. The original use of cement continues and is likely to do so on an expanding scale. Cement furnishes a basis for structures where solidity and permanence are demanded. Nothing can trade its place for that purpose, and the demand is increasing rapidly. An illustration of the want which cement supplies is found in the arrival at Colon a few days ago of a steamer the cargo of which consisted of 20,000 barrels of American cement. This is to be utilized in foundation and basin work for the Panama canal, for which it is estimated that not less than 5,000,000 barrels will be required. This means that such foundations and basins will be as substantial as though hewn out of rock, and they can be disturbed by no power less than tremendous than that of earthquages which would tear that section of the globe asunder. Less than 30 years ago the annual production of American cement amounted to about 82,000 barrels. Even so late as 1890 the output was but 335,000 barrels, worth $700,000. Then came a wonderful advance, and a special demand for the kind of cement commonly called Portland, which has qualities particularly adapted to such work asf has been recently carried on.

Paris now comes to the front with the story of a hay fever victim who was set to sneezing violently by a picture of a mowing scene. If the Parisians are not good we will have to come back at them with the old story about all the people of this country who have been devoured by the blind tigers.

THE SHEARERS SHORN.

A good deal of quiet amusement has been created in political circles in this county by the ridiculous and abortive outcome of the so called Lincoln congressional conference at Tunkhannock last week. The Lincoln Republican conferees, appointed by the chairman of the Lincoln Republican county committee of Bradford county, and composed, with perhaps a single exception, of the personal and political enemies of Mr. Lilley, went to Tunkhannock with the avowed purpose of having the conference endorse a Democrat for congress. So carefully had all been planned there was not the least chance of its miscarriage. All that there remained to do at the conference was to go through the motions with the conferees of the other counties and declare the nominee of the Democratic party, the nominee of the Lincoln Republicans of the Fourteenth congressional district. It was an adroit, well planned little game, worthy of the gigantic inteflect that conceived it. It was, seemingly, perfect in all its details and appointments; but like many other schemes which while perfect in theory, wouldn't work when put in actual practice. That was the fault of this carefully constructed and brilliant coupe which was to be. It wouldn't work, for when the conferees from Bradford met those from the other counties of the district they found that these conferees declined to walk into the trap so skilfuly set for them. The conferees from Susquehanna, Wayne, and Wyoming found the so called Lincoln Republican conferees from Bradford county to be—not Lincoln Republicans—but anti-Lilley Republicans, appointed by the chairman of the Lincoln party, whose hostility to Mr. Lilley had long been openly avowed. If there were any doubt of this feeling toward Mr. Lilley the personnel of the committee shows it.

The conferees of three other counties of the district were willing to abide by the action of a majority of the conference of the district and when the conferees of Bradford refused to do so they went ahead and endorsed the nominee for congress of the Republicans of Bradford county. The conferees of the Lincoln Republican party of this county seeing that they were in the minority in the conference, refused to play, bolted the conference and held one of thir own.

These Republicans who have been so loudly and insistently parading their opposition to bossism and their demands for representative government, went into a conference of themselves and after going through all the motions, nominated—not a Republican—but an out-and-out Democrat whose only claim to their support was the fact that he is the nominee of the Democratic party and opposed to the nominee of the Republican party. By their fruits do we know them.

As we have said, the outcome is infinitely amusing to those who have known the inside workings of the little game put up by the managers of the Lincoln Republican party of this county. Its utter collapse is another illustration of the uncertainty of human affairs and the political game in particular. Everybody is laughing at the discomfiture of the plotters.

CHEAP PRODUCTION OF ALCOHOL

The passage of the denatured alcohol bill has prompted research as to the economical production of alcohol, as well as study of means of utilizing the article for the provision of light and power. Warnings have been given the people that too great expectations may be disappointed; that alcohol must be yet cheaper than it is anywhere at present, and invention must provide improved apparatus, before a change of revolutionary importance can be effected. The oil and other interests with which free alcohol may compete are perhaps naturally disposed to put a wet blanket on public enthusiasm excited by the passage of the law removing the prohibitory tax. But now that the act has at last prevailed after years of successful opposition, investigation will doubtless be strongly stimulated, and new cheap methods of production and utilization will almost surely be found, of much benefit to the public at large.

The department of agriculture is inquiring into the practicability of extracting alcohol from corncobs and stalks. Already it is claimed this can be done so economically as to justify the maintenance of a distilling plant in connection which each corn cannery. The chemists detailed to experiment with these materials have succeeded by simple processes in obtaining a yield of eleven gallons of alcohol from a ton of green corn stalks. This promises value to an immense amount of material which has yearly gone to waste; and it may prove only a beginning in the way of obtaining valuable products from matter heretofore regarded as worthless.

VOX POPULI.

It is an absolute sign that the Pennsylvania railroad has read the message of the people and that is it sincerely desirous of complying therewith, that it is putting on steel cars for tunnel service in New York city and will place them in service throughout their system. While the message didn't say "steel cars," it did say cheaper, safer and more comfortable travel and the Pennsylvania railroad shows that it is up-to-date and alive to the interests of its army of patrons in giving even what was not asked for.

IF YOU HAVE A JOB OF PRINTING SEND IT TO THE TOWANDA PRINTING CO.

DON'T FORGET THE MAIN ISSUE.

The nomination of candidates for congress and the state legislature last week by the Democrats of this county draws the lines and fixes the issues on which the political battle in this county is to be waged. The endorsement of the Republican nominees for the legislature by both the Democrats and the Lincolnites has eliminated all contest over that office and concentrated it on congress and the head of the state ticket. This greatly simplifies the situation and makes the real issue of the campaign so plain that no voter need miss it.

Every intelligent voter knows that Roosevelt is the issue and the real question which the American people must answer at the polls in November is: "Will we give the President a House of Representatives to back him up or a House of Representatives to thwart him in his work?" We know what he has done and what he means to do if he can. Do we want these things done, or nothing done?

In the excitement which the present campaign is sure to develop, it is well to remember this. Let us not forget that something more than personal animosities and ambitions are at stake. The chief thing which good citizens here and everywhere seek is to hold up the hands of the President in his efforts to give the people better laws and better government.

Efforts to give the political contest now going on in this county and throughout the state a personal character are meant only to cloud the issue. A warfare over personalities could do only harm. It is well enough to point out once for all where leaders stand and what they represent. The personalities which some seek to inject into the contest should not be allowed to divert attention from the real issue.

FOR STANDARD HOSE COUPLERS

In bringing up th subject of an improved standard hose coupler President O. H. Lawrence, of the village of Waverly, at the banquet of the Valley Firemen displayed the good, sound, serious sense for which he is known among his fellow citizens and fellow firemen. Always eager to turn to good account every opportunity, Mr. Lawrence when called upon to respond to a toast, forsook his assigned subject and went straight to a point of vital interest to the firemen not only of Waverly, Sayre and Athens, but of Towanda and Elmira and Owego and every other place where a fire department is maintained. A hose coupler that may be used by every fire department no matter where, at a monment's notice, is what is wanted.

In supporting Mr. Lawrence's timely topic, J. H. Murrelle, a former Towanda man, drew attention to the fact that in Bradford county there has been patented by C. E. Loetzer, a device which is very near to the exact thing desired. The trouble is to get the idea adopted.

PROFITABLE ENTHUSIASM.

"Enthusiasm has more to do with making sales than anything under the sun," says a business magazine. "It makes the other fellow feel that you yourself really believe what you are trying to make him believe." True as Gospel. But you gain nothing by being enthusiastic in soliloquy. You've got to have an audience if your enthusiasm is to be catching. Enthuse in your advertisements, and put your advertisements where they will be read by the kind of people you want to interest, and you will solve the problem of successful merchandising.—Philadelphia Record.

CONGRATULATIONS, LEADER!

On Wednesday, Sept. 19, the Corning Evening Leader, one of the brightest Southern Tier papers that comes into The Review office, completed its seventh year. Owned by E. S. Underhill, one of the best known newspaper men in Southern New York, and edited by John Rolfe, an Elmira Advertiser graduate, the Corning Evening Leader is making great strides forward and promises even larger things for the coming seven years than it has accomplished in the past.

Rev. Peter C. McEnore, rector of St. Canius Catholic church, Mahanoy City, in a sermon denounced dancing in unmeasured terms, declaring it is the first step in the ruination of girls. Father McEnroe is so bitterly oposed to members of his congregation attending public dances that he said he will permit no girl to teach in Sunday school who attends them.

The Scranton Times believes that in this age of invention it should be possible to evolve the noiseless street car. In making a plea for asphalt pavement the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin says brick paving is noisy and nerve racking, hard to keep clean and unsanitary.

Joe Bennitt the Hungarian at Sayre who had $400 stolen from his trunk on Friday night last, and his boarder who had $265 in the same trunk, will perhaps see the moral of the story, and perhaps they won't. It is very plain, however,—put your money in the bank.

A banker in the financial district of New York, on being advised by his physician to take a vacation not long ago, wrote the agent of a South American steampship line as follows: "As I am thinking of taking a trip to South America, please advise me immediately with particulars relative to rates, accommodations, and so on, to and from the various ports usually visited by tourists at this season of the year." The answer came by special delivery, marked private and confidential, "One of our steamers will sail for Valparaiso next Wednesday; shortest and quickest way out of the country."

DEBS DEFEATED IN DEBATE.

A novel debate took place in Pottsville last Saturday between Eugene Debs and William Wilhelm, a local attorney, on Socialism.

Debs, who advocated the common ownership of such necessities as water works, was confronted by the statement that in Shenandoah and Girardville, where the people own their water works, they are a burden to the taxpayers, while in Pottsville private ownership has inured to the benefit of the people.

Debs had to admit it was a question of theory vs. practice.—Exchange.

This is the pivot upon which the whole subject swings. Instead of weakly yielding the point as he did, the labor leader should have come back with the proved statement that in a large majority of cases, municipal ownership has proved a saving success; there are good and bad examples of municipal ownership, just as there are good and bad examples of any class of government officials, but we are still willing to believe that the good are in a substantial majority. The events of these passing days seem to prove the fact. There is not more wickedness and "graft" than in former days; it is simply that the sore is promptly and prominently exposed to the public gaze whenever and wherever it breaks out. There are more good, strong, upright and intrepid men in charge of our public affairs than ever before in the history of the country. Debs, Hearst and their kind have a part to play, merely as the noise of the exhaust of steam, while the ship of state is propelled majestically forward.

MAGAZINE MUD-THROWING.

The city of Scranton is thrown into a turmoil by the appearance of the current issue of The Outlook, a well known New York monthly magazine in which two of Scranton's leading citizens are discussed. The trend of the article causes the Scranton Tribune to rise in righteous wrath against The Outlook:

"Probably nothing has been more discouraging to persons of literary tastes than the decline in what might be termed magazine morals," says the Tribune.

"A few years ago the magazine was looked upon as the patron of the highest grade of art and literature; the outlet of the best thought of the modern scientist, philosopher and essayist, and as a publication in every way suitable to enter the home of the most circumspect.

"But with the recent discoveries in the process of engraving that have resulted in a flood of cheap periodicals, whose editors apparently have no fixed purpose in view save that of pandering to prejudice, magazine atmosphere has become tainted with hysterical sensationalism of the most nauseating character.

"Can it be possible that men of the scholarly attainments and mental equilibrium of Dr. Lyman Abbott and Mr. Hamilton W. Mabie, the editorial sponsors for The Outlook, were cognizant of the flagrant injustice of these untimely charges and insinuations against honest and upright citizens of Scranton? We prefer to believe that they are still in ignorance of the import of the despicable fling."

CIVILIZATION ADVANCES.

The returns are all in from the various scenes of Fourth of July slaughter and the Journal of the American Medical association is able to definitely announce that 158 deaths directly resulted from this year's celebration of the anniversary of our national independence. That is a good many lives to be lost in a demonstration which could have been equally impressive with fewer fatal consequences. However, there is encouragement in the fact that the number killed, directly and incidentally, was 24 less than last year. Among the other victims of explosuve patriotism were 22 totally blinded and 72 who lost each one eye.

FINE TRIBUTE TO REV. FATHER KELLY.

Friend of the Dead Priest Pens an Appreciation.

To the Editors of The Reporter-Journal:

I read with much interest your obituary of Father Kelly. He was a dear personal friend of mine. His memory will be cherished by those of his faith, but by me as that of a genial, polished gentleman, a thorough scholar, and a charming companion. Whether under the trees when camping out, or in society, there was about him a sweet dignity in exquisite harmony with his profession. His religion was the fragrance of a certain rose; it was always there but never obtrusive. I went to the station in London when he left England for the states. He had already entered upon his martyrdom of pain, and his patient endurance of the same lent a wondrous, pathetic beauty to his old face as he greeted me with a smile. After a warm clasp of hands through the car window, and a simple goodbye, the train slowly moved out of the station, and my last glimpse of Father Kelly has left his smile with me not to be forgotten. An earnest, true man, who believed and lived what he preached. I hear he suffered fearfully in the hospital and death was doubtless welcome. E.

When Wishes Are Horses.

Before William Miller could secure the use of a horse and rig from a local liveryman, he was obliged to explain why he wanted it and where he expected to go. With tears in his eyes, and in a voice choking with emotion, Miller told the liveryman that his wife's nephew had died and that it was necessary for him to drive to the funeral at Pail Factory, four miles distant. Touched by the sad story, and despite previous experience, the owner of the rig let it go, Miller, in his relief promising faithfully, and even giving a note to make payment immediately after pay day of the present month. In due course, pay day rolled around as pay days always do, but Miller came not, neither did a remittance; Collector Hollon was called in consultation, and he found that there had been no funeral nor no sad death; the rig hired for funeral purposes had been driven to Luther's Mills, a good bit further than the Pail Factuory. Then Mr. Miller came to terms, confessed that he obtained the rig by a false story, and made satisfactory arrangements to pay for the same. The case was accordingly dropped.

Father Gorman officiated. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of cream voile and carried a gold rosary. She was attended by Miss Nellie Coveney, who was attired in cream cashmere and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Both wore picture hats with plumes. The happy young couple stood beneath a beautiful floral bell suspended from the ceiling in the parlor while the ceremony was being performed. Only the members of the families witnessed the marriage.

FUNERAL OF B. S. RUSSELL.

Remains of a Former Well Known Citizen Interred in Riverside.

The remains of the late B. S. Russell arrived here Friday morning on Lehigh Valley train No. 8, which is scheduled to reach Towanda at 9:15. The body was at once taken to Riverside cemetery and in the presence of a few friends deposited in the cemetery lot, where several of the family are now buried. Brief services at the grave were conducted by the Rev. E. A. Gernant. The pall bearers were Messrs. O. A. Baldwin, M. M. Spalding, L. M. Osborne, George Stevens, J. W. Codding, E. A. Parsons, and C. H. Turner.

Owing to a delay in the receipt of telegrams it was impossible to know when the body would reach Towanda, and consequently no notice of the hour of the services at the grave could be given out. This was a disappointment to many friends of the deceased who desired to be present but were unable to do so.

From the Jamestown, North Dakota, Daily Alert are taken the following facts about the death and funeral services there: Mr. Russell was taken ill Sept. 1 and gradually failed till the end, which came on Sunday morning last. He was 84 years old and left Towanda 38 years ago. The funeral services at Jamestown were held in the Grace Episcopal church on Monday afternoon and were conducted by Bishop Mann, assisted by the Rev. J. K. Burleson of Grand Forks, Rev. L. G. Moultrie of Valley City, and Rev. Edward Burleson of Jamestown. The altar and church interior were handsomely decorated with cut flowers and the assemblage filled the church to overflowing. A delegation representing the public schools was present from the High school, and the Masons attended in a body and acted as an escort for the remains to the train. On the casket lay a large and elegant wreath of flowers from the Masonic lodge, and a cluster of ripened grain, typical of the age and well rounded life of the deceased. A large number of people were assembled at the depot when the train bearing the remains started East.

Lackawanna Presbytery.

The Lackawanna Presbytery was in session at Montrose on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. The pastoral relations between Rev. J. W. Bischoff and his charge at Tunkhannock were dissolved. Rev. R. M. Jones requested that his relations with the church at Warrenham be dissolved, which was done. Rev. A. B. Hurr gave an excellent report of the Sunday schools of the presbytery. He said there are 18,448 pupils in the schools, 1,800 teachers and officers. There were received into membership of the church 581 persons from the Sunday schools. All the schools have home departments and teachers' training courses. Rev. H. J. Crane, who is over 70 years of age, and has been preaching for 53 years, was placed on the roll of honorary retired ministers. Rev. Crane has served on five pastoral charges and has received more than 1,000 people into the church. He has married 402 couples and officiated at 823 fuenerals.

Injuries May Be Fatal.

Injuries which will probably prove fatal were inflicted upon an Italian laborer employed by Mutchler & Sons through an accident at the work on the new bridge Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The Italian was one of a gang working under a swinging bucket, which dropped and struck the unfortunate foreigner squarely in the back. Dr. T. Ben Johnson was called and found a severe scalp wound, and what is possibly a break in one of the small bones of the spine, besides bruises and lacerations. The Italian was taken to the Sayre hospital on Lehigh train 157.

Troy Fair Paid.

After making a final accounting, the management of the Troy Fair association have found that the receipts were $2,100 and expenses $1,600, approximately, thus leaving the substantial balance on hand of $500; this is sufficient, it is said to make it highly probable that the Troy fair will be repeated again next year and will set at rest the rumors that the undertaking was a loss to the promoters.

HUNTING IS EXPENSIVE LUXURY FOR THESE.

Fines Aggregating $125 Imposed on Italians Caunght by Shoemaker.

As a result of a Sunday raid made by Fish Warden Shoemaker, assisted by several members of a company of state constabulary in different parts of the county seven convictions were secured Monday by Attorney William Wilson and fines to the amount of $110 and added costs were imposed by Justice Orcutt, the offenders in each case being Italian laborers. The trials of the foreigners occupied nearly the entire day, Interpreter Gori acting as counsel for the accused, during a part of the proceedings.

For some weeks past complaints have been coming in from farmers in different parts of the county that the Italians were committing all sorts of breaches of the game laws and last week Warden Shoemaker determined to make an effort to get a round-up started. It appears that the constabulary have power to make arrests on Sunday, and so the services of this body were secured. At or near Franklindale, Shoemaker and his men attached a party of the illegal hunters and at Wysox another offender was captured. Before Justice Orcutt, all were convicted and all paid the stiff fines imposed.

Harry Smith and Jasper Oftedahl were the regular constables taking part in the round-up and their prisoners and the charges were as follows: Nazareno Paris, convicted of hunting on Sunday, hunting without license, penalty $25 and costs; Vanello Francosco, convicted of hunting on Sunday without license, shooting woodpecker, fined $60 and costs; Casela Francisco, convicted of fishing on Sunday, fined $25 and costs; Araccl Romeno, convicted of fishing on Sunday, $25 and costs. Paris did not have the money but promises to pay today and Shoemaker took his body as collateral. He passed the night in jail.

STATE AID ROADS.

State Engineers Are Laying Them Out in Wyalusing Township.

The corps of engineers sent out by the State Highway department began work on the state aid road in Wyalusing township on Tuesday, the surveyors commencing on the road at Camptown and laying out and mapping the road from that place to the borough line and thence from the Wyalusing creek bridge to the Lehigh Valley station at that place. Before the work is finished they will also survey the Vaughn Hill road, which commences at the borough line on State street and goes up that road about three miles to Vaughn Hill.

The work is preliminary to letting the contract for the state aid roads that the township commissioners have asked for, and is good evidence that the construction of those pieces of roads will soon be begun. The surveying of the borough connections will also be shoved as fast as will be necessary to have those streets which the state has been asked to assist in building, finished by the time the township roads are completed.

High School Girls Reunion.

Mrs. R. J. Mulligan, Mrs. D. A. McClarty, Mrs. Delos Dubois, Mrs. R. Stevens of Athens, and Mrs. E. L. Pratt of Binghamton, entertained their school girl friends at the pleasant home of Mrs. R. J. Mulligan in Athens, Thursday, Sept. 20, those present being Mrs. W. S. Rickey, Mrs. S. Watson, Mrs. J. Martin and Mrs. Carrie Dailey of Towanda,; Mrs. Alex Watson, Miss Ida Cole, Mrs. F. E. VanNess and Mrs. G. G. Stevens of Macedonia. A bounteous dinner was served and many incidents of old school days were related. All were invited to meet at the home of Mrs. Rickey at Towanda, next year, the date to be fixed later. This gathering was unique in that all the ladies present were attendants at the same district school in their girlhood days and while their life paths have during the years since that time been widely dissevered all are again residents of the county of their birth.—Sayre Times.

Oil Near Wellsboro.

The Wellsboro Agitator says: "Oil was struck last week in the Baker Oil company's well up Baldwin run. The drill has passd through 24 feet of sand—the second sand—and the well is well along toward the third sand. Drilling has been suspended for a few days awaiting the arrival of a new sand reel, the old one having been broken. The contractor, Stephen Shear, says that the well is to be shot in a few days and that the prospects for a good producer are very bright in deed. Let us hope that the long-sought-for feeded of the Gaines pool has at last been discovered near Wellsboro.

WORK TO BE BEGUN SOON.

Road from Athens Township Southward Finest in County.

The D. J. Macafee Concrete company of Athens, which has the contract for building the state road from Tioga street, Athens, to the township line, will begin work at the earliest possible moment and this will probaly be as soon as the engineer, N. F. Walker, reaches Athens. Mr. Walker has been several days at Towanda, and expected to begin work Monday.

The road will be three miles long, reaching from the Tioga street bridge over the Chemung river to the Athens township line. The road bed which will be practically the same as South Main street, in Athens, will be 16 feet wide. The specifications call for two bridges and for the grading of the gutters sloping both, from the road proper and the fence line, and in places where there is likely to be washing away the gutters will be paved with cobble stones.

Mr. Macafee, president of the company, announced his intention of putting on a large force of men and thus hastening the work before the coming cold weather. He will employ Americans if possible, but if the work can be done in no other way he says that despite the feeling against Italians, he will put on a force sufficient to do the work even though it be necessary to safeguard them with a gatling gun.

The contract was let by the state and it was necessary that both the county and the township commissioners sign it. The county commissioners affixed their signatures to the paper Friday and the township commissioners will attend to their duties in the matter at once.

Buys the Hoyt Farm.

Saturday afternoon Paul E. Maynard, the well known attorney purchased from L. T. Hoyt the latter's farm situated just across the river East of Athens. The farm implements, stock, etc., are also included in the purchase and Mr. Maynard will take possession as soon as Mr. Hoyt can vacate. The latter will move his family to the Ovenshire house on Main street, Athens. The farm which he has sold to Mr. Maynard is one of the most attractive country places in this section. It consists of about 38 acres of land under a fine state of cultivation, which has recently been used for truck gardening. The house, while of an old fashioned type, has been extensively altered by Mr. Hoyt and is regarded by those who are acquainted with its interior as being one of the finest country seats in this section.—Valley Record.

Standard for Ice Cream.

Having adopted the standard for ice cream set by the Food Standards Commission of the United States government, a crusade against the cpurious stuff that has been sold in Pennsylvania under the name of ice cream has been begun by the Pure Food department of Pennsylvania. The government standard holds that ice cream is a frozen product of cream and sugar containing 14 per cent milk fat. Nut and fruit ice cream contain 12 per cent. milk fat. Eggs, gelatine, corn starch and coloring matter will not be permitted in cream under the new regulations. Milk ice cream will be a thing of the past. It will not come up to the standard. Dr. B. H. Warren has never been able to secure a recognized standard for ice cream until now. He has notified all his agents to begin lifting samples at once.

Didn't Know the Law.

And on account of the fact they were let off. On Friday afternoon eight men of the street fair troupe that has been at Sayre stripped off their clothing and went in swimming in the beautiful Susquehanna within the borough limits. Special Officers Hummel heard of it and went to the river and told them to put on their clothes. They obeyed. Then the officer lined them up and marched them before Chief Walsh. There they explained that they did not know that they were breaking a borough law, and the chief told them to go and sin no more.

The monument is of handsome design and the lettering and work finely executed. On the sloping top in large letters is the word "Crooks." Then beneath an artistically carved goose-quill pen follows the inscription:

HEIRS TO GET $50,000

Mrs. Russell Sage Compromises With Dead Husband's Relatives.

DOUBLES SHARE OF EACH

Five New Claimants Appear and Threaten Contest, but Lawyers For Estate Promise to Let Them In if They Prove Relationship.

New York, Sept. 21.—Just as Mrs. Russell Sage had completed arrangements with the various relatives of Russell Sage to double the amounts allotted to them under the will in the hopes thereby of heading off any contests the legatees had contemplated, several grandnephews and nieces of the great money lender who were not mentioned in the will turned up with the intention of precipitating a contest.

This contest may be averted, however, if the relatives not mentioned under the will take the advantage of an offer on the part of Charles A. Gardner of counsel for the executors to give the unmentioned relatives amounts equal to those to be received by the heirs under the will if the relationships can be proved to the satisfaction of the executors and the surrogate.

Five New Claimants.

The relatives of Mr. Sage who may try to have the will broken are his great-grandnieces and nephews, Mrs. Margaret Stillwell Crary, Mrs. Delia Stillwell Decker and Messrs. Ira, William and Oscar Stillwell of Hobart, N. Y. They are the grandchildren of the late Sally Ann Sage, a sister of the millionaire.

State Senator Edgar T. Brackett of Saratoga, who arrived in the city several days ago in the interests of Edson M. Coonrad of Troy, one of the heirs mentioned in the will, had hinted that some compromise might be made whereby the contemplated contest would be abandoned. When the various attorneys appeared at the surrogate's office Senator Brackett gave out the following statement from Henry M. De Forest, of counsel for the executors:

"Assuming no contest of the Sage will, Mrs. Sage has intended and now intends, to give to each relative who is a beneficiary under the will an additional amount equal to his or her legacy, and to do this as soon as possible after her qualification as executrix This intention has been made known by her counsel to such legatees as have made inquiries."

New Claimants to Be Paid.

The attorneys for the new contestants, after a consultation with Probate Clerk Jacob Washburn, decided to make a claim for their clients as descendants of Sally Ann Sage. Mr. Gardiner said there was no objection to that, and if it were proved that Sally Ann Sage was a sister of the late Russell Sage the legacies would be paid the lawyer for the executors thus implying that if the contestants succeed in proving relationship they will get as much as the heirs mentioned in the will.

Edward Townsend of the subscribing witnesses to the will was called by the surrogate when the process of probating the will was taken up. He testified that he had known Mr. Sage for thirty-five years prior to the execution of the will and was present when Mr. Sage signed it.

"Richard W. Freedman was present at the time and signed the will after I did," said Mr. Townsend.

"Was Mr. Sage of sound mind, memory and understanding at the time?" he was asked.

"He was absolutely," was the reply.

"Was he under any kind of restraint whatsoever?" was the next question.

"None whatever," was the answer.

The will was admitted to probate after the signing witnesses had sworn that the document presented was the only one they had subscribed to. The witnesses were not cross examined by counsel. Supreme Court Justice Fitzgerald completed the legal formalities by signing the instrument.

Beneficiaries Under the Will

The nephews and nieces who given $25,000 each under the will will receive $50,000 under Mrs. Sage offer are Samuel Dwight, Angell Lyle, Helen, Frank, Homer, Fremont and Taylor Chapin, Jane Chapin Monroe of Oneida, N. Y., and Earl Chapin of Milwaukee, Wis., children of Mr. Sage's sister Fanny; James H. and Albert H. Sage and Sarah M. Gardner of Troy, Julia Baxter of Ottawa, Canada, and Mary Elizabeth Greer of 102 Waverly place, New York, children of a brother, William; Helen S. Holbrook and Fannie Crisler of Park Ridge, Ill.; Harriet Davis Olin and Elizur W. Sage of Channahon, Ill.; Mary Jane Wagnall of Vanderyoort, Ark.; Emily Chadwick of Odell, Ill., and Lina Schoonmaker of Crete, Ill., children of a brother, Elizur; Charles R. Sage of Troy and Martha Martrarte of 822 Columbus avenue, New York, children of another brother, Elisha; Carrie Jensen of Lansingburg, N. Y., Alfretta Bibbi of Lansing, Mich., and Grace B. Tarosian of Troy, children of Alfretta Lucknow, a deceased daughter of Elisha Sage, would each receive a quarter of their mother's share under the will, together with Edson Coonrad of Watervliet, N. Y., a nephew. Under Mrs. Sage's proposal they will each receive $12,500.

APPEAL FOR PATRICK

Nearly 3,500 Physicians Sign Petition to Governor Higgins.

GRAVE QUESTIONS ARE RAISED

Doctors Suggest That Disinterested Experts Be Asked to Pass on Medical Points Involved In Trial of Alleged Poisoner of Millionaire Rice.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Nearly 3,500 physicians of the state, representing 551 cities and towns and including some of the best known in the profession, are signers of a petition presented to Governor Higgins in behalf of Albert T. Patrick, the New York lawyer convicted and under sentence of death since 1901 for the alleged murder of the aged millionaire, William Marsh Rice, in September, 1900.

The petition is as follows:

We, the undersigned physicians of New York state, have read the medical testimony presented on a motion for a new trial to Recorder Goff in the case of Albert T. Patrick, charged with the murder of William Marsh Rie.

The conclusions of the experts who testified on the motion are quite at variance and the questions are novel as well as grave and important to the members of society, and especially to the defendant, and therefore should be justly solved. To this end we petition your excellency to appoint a commission composed of disinterested experts selected from the medical profession to examine impartially into the questions at issue and report their findings at as early a date as possible and thus avoid the possibility of mistake in the case of Patrick, as well as to get a final and just solution of the question.

The Vital Question.

The main medical question involved, vital in the conviction of Patrick, is whether the congestion of the lungs, alleged to have been found in the autopsy upon Rice's body, could have been caused by embalming fluid or must be the result of chloroform with which Jones, Rice's valet, in one of his several contradictory confessions, said he had killed the old man by Patrick's direction.

The petition was presented by F. G. Logan, a prominent Chicago business man, partner of John T. Milliken, whose wife is Patrick's sister; Lyman C. Smith of Syracuse and Samuel B. Thomas of New York, of counsel for Patrick.

The signers of the petition include 860 physicians of New York, 324 of Brooklyn, 114 of Buffalo, 75 of Rochester, 64 of Syracuse, 16 of Albany, 20 of Elmira, 32 of Troy, 16 of Binghamton. There are four from Olean, the home town of Governor Higgins. Mr. Thomas said the request for signatures had not been sent to the physicians of the state until the second week in July and up to date nearly 3,500 have returned their signatures. More are coming in every mail. Only four physicians, Mr. Thomas said, and one of them was indirectly connected with the case, had returned the petition with refusal to sign. With the petition were filed about 250 letters from prominent physicians, several of them addressed to the governor and sent through Mr Thomas, re-enforcing the formal petition.

A marked feature of these letters was the contempt expressed by many of the writers for expert testimony rendered for pay by one side or other in criminal cases.

FIVE THOUSAND DEAD.

Hongkong Typhoon Disaster Grows as Details Are Received.

Hongkong, Sept. 20.—The full extent of the catastrophe is not yet known but conservative estimates place the number of Chinese who lost their lives at 5,000, and the total of the material damage to the colony at $20,000,000.

Reports of disasters at sea are constantly being received here. The steamer Albatross, with 150 passengers on board, foundered near Lutaumer Pass. Only six passengers and two of the crew were saved. They swam ashore. The steamer Hongkong also was lost and her entire crew is missing. The steamer Yingfat, from Samshui, foundered and 130 passengers and ten of her crew are missing. Only two of the crew are known to have been rescued.

Mrs. Hoare and her search party have returned. They found no trace of her husband, Joseph Charles Hoare Anglican bishop of Victoria, whose yacht was lost during the typhoon.

Captain Thomas, commander of the river steamer Fatshan, whose Chinese crew clambered on board the French mail steamer Polynesian when the Fatshan collided with her, saved his vessel and 150 Chinese passengers by splendid seamanship. Fortunately the engine room staff stuck heroically to their posts. Captain Thomas was left almost single handed on deck. He took the wheel and navigated the Fatshan for one hour and forty minutes through a tempestuous sea, and finally beached the vessel safely. It is believed that she can be floated without trouble.

Her Wisdom.

"Girls!" quietly called old but eminently astute Aunt Broadhead.

"Ma'am?" they replied as they fluttered obediently to her.

"Always remember, girls, that when a man professes to have a 'fatherly interest' in you his own daughters need it, that your own father can sufficiently supply you with it and that is the oldest of all stories save one in the world."—Puck.

An Experiment.

"Where are you going, Michael, so early"

"Apothecary's; wife got sick last night."

"Doctor been there yet?"

"No. I found a prescription in the street when I was in town, and I'm going to have that made up and try it."—Fliegende Blatter.

WHOLE CITY BLOWN UP

Nine Killed, Fifty Hurt by Great Explosion at Jellico, Tenn.

EVERY STORE IS IN RUINS

Entire Third Story of a Brick Hotel Blown Off—Dynamite on Car In Louisville and Nashville Railroad Yards Went Off.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 21.—Nine people were killed, fifty injured and almost the entire business section of Jellico, Tenn., wrecked by a terrific explosion of dynamite in a car in the yards of the Louisville and Nashville railroad.

The explosion occurred about 100 yards north of the depot and near the center of the business section of the town. The bodies of the dead are buried in the debris and it is impossible to estimate the extent of the fatalities or to give names of those who lost their lives. One of the known dead is Thomas Atkins, aged thirty, a lineman employed by the East Tennessee Telephone company.

Every warehouse in Jellico and the Louisville and Nashville railroad is a wreck and nearly every store in the town is in ruins.

The entire third floor of the Carmarthen inn, a large brick hotel structure, was blown off.

The union depot of the Southern railway and the Louisville and Nashville railroad, located about 100 yards from the place of the explosion, was shattered to splinters. This cut off telegraphic communication, and news of the explosion was handled by telephone. The explosion occurred upon the Kentucky side of Jellico and in consequence every house on that side of the town is wrecked. Not one was spared. A large number of residences located near the railroad on the Kentucky side were without exception demolished. As a result, it is estimated that 500 persons are homeless.

A car loaded with dynamite and consigned to the Rand Powder company arrived here on the Southern railway from the direction of Knoxville and was sidetracked in the yards used jointly by the Southern railway and the Louisville and Nashville. It is believed that the explosion was caused from spontaneous combustion in the car. However, nothing has yet developed to make this assertion positive. The spot where the car stood is marked by a crevasse in the earth fully twenty feet deep and about thirty feet in diameter.

Property damage estimated at $1,000,000 was done.

INDORSE ROOSEVELT.

Connecticut Republicans Nominate Woodruff For Governor.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 20.—Lieutenant Governor Rollin S. Woodruff was nominated for governor by the Republican state convention here, the nomination being by acclamation.

Everett J. Lake was nominated for lieutenant governor over Frank B. Weeks.

Theodore Bodenwein of New London, present secretary of state, was renominated, and Freeman F. Patton of Stafford Springs was the convention's choice for state treasurer. Judge Marcus H. Holcomb was nominated by acclamation for attorney general and Congressman George L. Lilley was the unanimous choice of the convention for congressman at large. Thomas D. Bradstreet was named for comptroller, making up the state ticket in full.

The platform adopted was in part as follows:

We heartily indorse the administration of Theodore Roosevelt, which, with the co-operation of the Republican majority in congress, has resulted in the adoption of measures to secure the construction of the Panama canal free from intervention, the pure food bill, the meat inspection bill, the denatured alcohol bill, the railway rate bill, with adequate powers to prevent rebates and discriminations, and amendments to the antitrust laws to prevent and punish unlawful combinations in restraint of trade.

Adopting the language of our president, "We stand unequivocally for a protective tariff, and we feel that the phenomenal industrial prosperity which we are now enjoying is not to be lightly jeopardized, for it would be to the last degree foolish to secure here and there a small benefit at the cost of general business depression."

TWENTY BODIES DUG UP.

Another Tragedy of San Francisco Earthquake Brought to Light.

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—Another tragedy of the great fire of April 18 was brought to light through the finding of a score of human bodies in the ruins of a lodging house at Fifth and Minna streets. The lodging house, which was a four story frame building, was tossed bodily into Minna street in a heap by the earthquake and immediately took fire. It is said that the fire south of Market street originated in the house.

Fifty persons were in the place at the time of the quake, only seven of whom have been accounted for. Mrs. Murray, the landlady, has never been heard from by friends, and it is thought that her body is among those found. She is said to have a wealthy daughter in New York city.

The Arrow Flies Over Elmira.

Elmira, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Captain Thomas Baldwin made a successful flight in his airship, the Arrow, from the Chemung county fair grounds to this city, four miles. Captain Baldwin circled around the city hall while the firebells tolled and whistles were being blown. The airship was under perfect control. The round trip was made in thirty minutes.

Police and Militia Shooting Blacks In Atlanta.

RAID NEGRO SETTLEMENT

Soldiers Invade Brownsville Section of City and Disarm and Arrest 257 Colored Men—Also Surround a Negro College—Feeling Runs High.

Atlanta, Sept. 25.—In a desperate fight at close range between Black Officers Smith and Maddox and Policeman Casen and two negroes barricaded in a house near the corner of Macgruder and Randolph streets the negroes were killed and the police officers had narrow escapes.

Officers Maddox and Smith had been notified that negroes were shooting in the vicinity of Houston and Randolph streets. When the officers reached the scene, there was no shooting. The officers were told that the difficulty was in the vicinity of Randolph and Macgruder streets. Whether this was a trap laid to kill the officers is not known, but a negro pointed out a house in which he said a negro who had done the shooting had taken refuge.

The officers went to the house, Smith going to the rear door and Maddox to the front. Smith attempted to enter, and the negroes began shooting. Maddox ran around the house to his aid. As he did so he saw two negroes leaning out of the window firing at them. The officers returned the fire, and the negroes dropped below the window. Officer Casen had come up in the meantime, and the three charged the house. Maddox went to the window and pulled himself up, gun in hand. A pistol was fired to the left of his head. He fired point blank and dropped to the ground, pulling the window down with him. He then ran to the door and broke it open, his brother officers running with him. As he opened the door a shot was fired, the bullet passing over his head. He and the other officers then fired, killing the two negroes.

Negro Settlement Raided.

One negro was killed in Brownville, a suburb, by militia while trying to break through the lines. Two hundred and fifty-seven negroes have already been placed under arrest in Brownville. The majority of them were heavily armed. One other negro tried to get away and was shot. The raid started shortly after 5 a. m. Negroes were searched for arms, and every one armed was placed on a car to be sent to police barracks. One of the first arrested was L. J. Price, the negro postmaster, who is charged with supplying ammunition to the blacks. Negroes who tried to break through the lines were fired on, halting promptly.

Policemen Anxious For Revenge.

The negroes are hemmed in by militia. Members of the governor's horse guards and mounted county policemen are anxious to avenge the death of Officer Heard and the wounding of other members of the force. The negroes are badly frightened.

Deciding that the negro students, 500 in number, who live in the campus of Clark university are responsible for and executed the attacks on the officers in South Atlanta, the military authorities have sent 150 under the command of Colonel Clifford Anderson to the scene.

They expect to surround the campus capture and search all the students and punish the guilty ones.

Two Tales of Macready.

It is not always well to strut and fret one's little hour upon the stage too realistically. Macready, who threw himself into his acting heart and soul used to tell funny stories about the effect of his easy, colloquial manner upon the players collected for his company in small provincial towns. Once in the play of "William Tell" he turned to one of these stupid rustics and put the question, "Do you shoot?" so naturally that the man was quite thrown off his guard, and, to his horror, replied, "A little, sir, but I've never had a go with one of them crossbows." Another time in "Virginius" he asked, "Do you wait for me to lead Virginia in, or will you do so?" only to be greeted unexpectedly by the actor who played Icilius with, "Why, really, sir, I don't care; just as you do it in London."

Sennit.

In Polynesia and the Pacific islands generally the outer husk of the cocoa nut is braided into strands of uniform texture, known to the natives as sennit and used by them for a variety of purposes. The framework of their houses is held together by braided sennit, and the strakes of their boats are united by it. It is the staple from which string is made to bind the adze blade to its handle and to tie the different parts of their implements securely together. In short, whatever things are nailed or screwed or pegged or glued in other lands are tied together with sennit by the south sea islander.

A Miser's Wish.

Greedylot, who is rather miserly, was recovering from a long illness. "How was it, doctor," he asked one day, "that I was able to live so many weeks without eating?"

"Why, you were fed by the fever."

"Are you sure?" Then after a moment's reflection, "I wish I could give it to my servants."

Speaking Their Minds.

The queer thing about the people who boast of always speaking their minds is that they nearly always have such disagreeable minds to speak. Did you ever hear any one preface a compliment, a commendation or anything gracious or pleasant by saying, "I always must speak my mind?"—Woman's Life.

STUART STANDS FIRM

Republican Nominee For the People As Against the Corporations.

FOR A TWO-CENT RATE OF FARE

He Leaves No Room to Doubt His Position In His Many Speeches On His Tour of the Counties.

[Special Correspondence.]

Harrisburg, Sept. 25.

Reports received here from every county in the state indicate a growing sentiment in favor of the entire Republican ticket.

Visitors here during the last few days from the sections visited by Edwin S. Stuart and his colleagues on the Republican ticket in their tour of the state report that Mr. Stuart has been making a very favorable impression with the voters. He is standing squarely upon the party platform, and his words and manner clearly show that he is honest in his pledges to give the people a popular administration, to insist that the corporations shall obey the law, and that they shall not encroach upon the rights of individuals or discriminate against any one, and that they shall be obliged to give a fair return to the state and the people for the franchises which they enjoy.

Mr. Stuart points to his record made as mayor of Philadelphia in the treatment of corporations, where he broke all records by insisting that the street railways should give the city value for the privileges which they enjoy. His stand by the taxpayers in that one fight alone meant the payment of millions by the street railways for the paving of streets, which they would have kept in their treasuries or distributed among their stockholders.

Mr. Stuart is committed to the enactment of legislation making two cents a mile a maximum rate of fare on railroads, and for the creation of a commission which shall have supervision over the railroads of the state.

For a Square Deal.

In a recent speech Mr. Stuart said: "Much has been said upon the question of corporations, and I desire to say that I have not gone through the state tearing down, upsetting and destroying corporations, because my principle and my ideas are that they should be regulated according to law. Common carriers, railroad companies, all who may receive special privileges must be compelled to exercise those privileges fairly and squarely upon a square deal to every man in every part of the state. There should not be one rate for one man and another rate for somebody else, but they must all be treated as equal. As to the Republican platform, I stand absolutely and unreservedly upon it and will do everything in my power, and I know that in saying that I also speak for my colleagues, to bring about such legislation that will correct according to law any evils we may have, and correct them solely for the benefit and in the best interests of the people of this state. (Applause.)

Will Guard the People's Interests.

"I have had in years gone by, if you will pardon the personal allusion, some experience in treating with a legislation wanted by corporations. That record has been made, and it is a part of the history of my native city, and can be inquired into by any man or set of men who desire to do so, and you will find that in my public record in dealing with corporations my first and only desire and my ultimate purpose has always been to see that the interests of the people I represented, and whom I was elected to represent, were properly, legally and honestly taken care of and protected. Without attempting to destroy or to tear down, I have promised that if elected governor of Pennsylvania the interests of the people will be safeguarded and taken care of in every legal and proper way that lies in my power."

Chairman Andrews, of the Republican state committee, has planned to have the gubernatorial candidate and his colleagues speak today, Tuesday, at Lewisburg in the evening; tomorrow, Wednesday, they will be in Smethport in the afternoon, and in Bradford in the evening; on Friday they will visit Tionesta, Forest county, in the afternoon and Warren in the evening. Saturday, September 29, will be spent in Titusville in the afternoon, and Erie in the evening.

What Emery Must Explain.

Candidate Emery, of the Lincolnite Democratic combination, has up to date failed to answer to the charges made against him by Homer L. Castle, Prohibition nominee for governor, or Dr. Silas S. Swallow.

Mr. Emery has not explained how his Pure Oil company works in harmony with the Standard Oil company in fixing prices.

Mr. Emery has not told how Mack, Durham, McNichol and other politicians got stock in his company, nor has he explained what their influence has done to advance the company's interest.

Mr. Emery has not denied his own statements made before the interstate commerce commission that his company got rebates on freight rates, just as he charges the Standard Oil with getting.

Mr. Emery has not answered Robert S. Murphy, the Republican nominee for lieutenant governor, who wants him to explain how he got so immensely wealthy "fighting" the Standard Oil company.

These and other matters Mr. Emery has yet to explain to the voters in his tour of the state.

The very design of this range makes it a labor-saver—plain and graceful, without ornate ornamentation and with easily removable nickel on top and hearth, it almost keeps itself clean.

Then there's the new

a very valuable improvement found on no other range. With it you can have at will, either a warming closet or an extra shelf of large dimensions. The closet door is so arranged that, when the closet is used as a shelf, the door is entirely out of sight and out of the way.

The oven in this range is extra large and the flues constructed to supply plenty of heat to all sides of the oven, making the Andes a great baker. The grate and fire-box are removable, the ash-pan is big and deep, the broiler door is large and drops entirely out of the way when opened, and there is an oven indicator that is really reliable.

Every casting used on The Andes Ranges is of adequate weight, smooth and of best quality. Every joint is firm, tight and strong.

The Palace Andes is the most popular design, but there are other styles of Andes Ranges, and we are ready to show you and give you a choice.

A Remarkable Dwarf.

Perhaps the most remarkable dwarf on record was Sir Jeffrey Hudson, the little fellow whom Scott introduces in "Peveril of the Peak." He was born in Rutlandshire, England, in 1619.

When eight years of age he was presented by the Duke of Buckingham to Queen Henrietta in a cold pie. He afterward became attached to the court of Charles I. At one of the court masks the king's porter, a man of gigantic size, who used to torment the little dwarf, pulled from one pocket a loaf of bread and from the other Jeffrey, much to the surprise and amusement of the company present. Jeffrey was at this time only eighteen inches in height.

He remained at this stature until he was thirty years of age, after which a curious exception to the laws of growth took place, since Jeffrey rapidly grew to be three feet nine inches in height, whereas most men do not grow a quarter of an inch after the age of thirty. This dwarf had an enormous head and very large hands and feet; otherwise his proportions were symmetrical, and his face was considered handsome.—Youth's Companion.

There are few people in this world who are smart enough to "get rich quick" legitimately. The average person who is today well fixed can recall numerous discouragements and disheartening experiences before reaching his present state of prosperity.

A New Hampshire apiarist is authority for the statement that if one holds his breath a bee cannot sting him. While this may be true, there will be comparatively few whose curiosity as to the truth of the statement will cause them to take the risk involved.

Some of the leading educators of the day are discussing the problem of increasing the number of school months to ten, claiming that so much vacation is demoralizing to the youth. The man on a strike and the boy on a vacation are usually employed in the same workshop.

A simple yet common method of hastening the process of "making" vinegar is to add a gallon of sirup and three or four yeast cakes to each barrel of cider after it has worked as much as it will on its own account. Good vinegar can be produced in this way in the course of two or three months.

Lonesomeness has been listed as an objection to farm life. To the enterprising, industrious man or woman this is no barrier. No time is left for this feeling after the day's work is done. Either they are too dead tired to be lonesome or they are glad of a chance to read the papers, work in the garden or enjoy each other.

Observation leads us to believe that there is enough waste in the ordinary stack of clover hay of eight or ten tons to more than pay for a stout canvas cover to protect the same. Where there is an abundance of slough grass the canvas may be dispensed with, but so much does a stack of clover hay settle that unless it is protected in one of the two ways mentioned above the loss is bound to be large.

A fifteen or twenty minutes' rest and relaxation in the middle of a hard afternoon's work will often be of more value to the good housewife, touching the matter of progress with her work, than an hour and a half spent at the tasks themselves after the point of fatigue and exhaustion has been reached. A chair with an adjustable back which one can recline at an angle of forty-five degrees is an excellent place for these short rests.

While their presence along the border of the farm may result in a lessened yield in the crops that grow adjacent, we somehow deplore the utilitarianism that causes the big fifty-year-old cottonwoods, elms and maples to fall by the woodman's ax. This is but one illustration out of many which go to prove that as a people we possess scant respect for the things which do not have a very definite practical or money value.

We were assured the other day by an employee of a large railroad company that hereafter there will be absolutely no discrimination in the matter of a distribution of cars to the patrons of the railroads, orders having been sent out to treat all alike—to accommodate the man who wants but one car just as cheaply and with as little delay as another who may want a thousand. The enforcement of this order will result in a condition which will be very acceptable to many small shippers who have hitherto suffered because of such discrimination.

The following figures give some idea of the remarkable growth which has been made in the rice growing industry in this country during the past few years: In 1900 there were raised in the United States 253,000,000 pounds of commercial rice, in 1901 the figure was 525,000,000 pounds, while in 1904 the output was 580,000,000 pounds. The major portion of this country's rice crop is grown in the states of Louisiana and Texas, where large areas of land are practically useless land have been broken up, irrigated and developed by agriculture.

corn belt July and August heat, coupled with a June rainfall, has resulted in the most prodigious growth of weeds that we have noted in years.

Don't be misled with the idea that an early September frost isn't going to hurt your corn crop. It is just as disastrous to the corn nearly matured as a business failure is to a man of forty.

The times are badly out of joint when a fellow cannot get away for half a day once in two weeks to go fishing. The barbarian instincts which lie deep in his breast should be indulged to that extent at least, and if they cannot be he might about as well be boarding at the county jail.

Several attempts have been made in America whereby tea can be raised successfully and profitably, but we are not yet able to compete with the eastern countries. Were this possible we would be enriched to the extent of nearly $15,000,000 per annum. But this will come in time, just as the other good things have.

So perfect have water transportation facilities become that it now costs but 15 cents per bushel to ship wheat from Chicago to London. The large capacity of these big lake and transatlantic freight vessels, coupled with the opportunity they have of carrying freight both ways, has resulted in putting water freight rates far below what they would be by rail for the same distance.

Among the more or less effective methods which have been suggested for the eradication of quack grass is the liberal sowing of sorghum broadcast on the land infested with the grass. It is claimed that this treatment not only prevents a spread of the pest, but strangles out all that which in any way has obtained a foothold. The remedy would seem to have much to commend it.

A number of towns we know of are complaining of the dog nuisance—that curs of all colors, sizes and descriptions are swarming within the city limits. The cure of the difficulty is very simple and within the reach of any town. Just slap a tax of $5 a year on every male canine in the city limits and $10 on every female, and it will be surprising in how short a time the dog breed will evaporate. There are mighty few people who are willing to pay the amount mentioned yearly for the privilege of seeing a dog wag his tail or having him bay at the moon.

An old German of whom we know is responsible for the following suggestion as to keeping cabbage during the winter: Fill a barrel with choice heads and put out of doors along in December after it freezes up, cover and pack the barrel about with straw so as to prevent thawing and freezing. Cabbages kept in this way are said to keep through the winter and come out in April crisp, firm and tender. Late fall apples handled the same way or placed in a barn or shed are also said to be prime in the spring after they haw out, the freezing seeming to work no injury in either texture or flavor.

The past weeks have been very busy ones within and without the farm home. While the men folks have been busy securing the hay crop and in harvesting and thrashing operations, the housewife has been engaged in putting up a generous supply of fruits and vegetables against the long winter, when she has learned by experience that these things are greatly relished. And while it has entailed a great deal of hard work for her she knows that these same supplies will not only greatly reduce the cost of the winter bill of fare, but that they will also be vastly superior in quality to anything that can be bought over the counter.

A law passed at the last session of the Iowa legislature makes it necessary for the proprietors of separator creameries to pasteurize all milk before it is returned to the patrons. This process is simply the heating of it for a short time at 140 degrees F. or above, which kills the germs which may be present in it. While the law seems to result in hardship for those creamery managers who are not equipped with facilities for so treating the milk, yet the object in view—a prevention of the distribution of the disease infected milk from one or more herds among all the patrons of a creamery—seems to justify the means employed, even if it does cause inconvenience to the proprietors mentioned.

The Kingfisher.

Many and curious are the legends of the kingfisher. One of these is to the effect that the bird was originally a plain gray in color, but upon being let loose from the ark flew toward the setting sun and had its back stained blue by the sky and its lower plumage scorched by the sun to gorgeous hues. The dried body of the kingfisher was once used as a charm against thunderbolts and moths, and it was hung up so that it might point with its bill to the wind's quarter.

ADULTERATED ALFALFA SEED.

Following out the instructions of a recent act of congress making appropriations for the department of agriculture, the chief of the bureau of plant industry has this season made a collection of 352 samples of alfalfa seed as offered for sale in the open market and subjected them to a careful examination with a view to ascertaining the extent to which the seed was adulterated. Out of the number of samples mentioned it was found that 160, or nearly half, contained seed of the destructive parasitic plant dodder; nine samples were found to contain seed of the yellow trefoil, while nine samples were adulterated with bur clover. The trefoil seed is imported from Europe and costs about 5 cents per pound, being used extensively as an adulterant of clover and alfalfa seed. The bur clover is a byproduct secured in the cleaning of South American wool and is imported from Germany in low grade alfalfa seed. Following a statement of the kinds of adulterants found in the samples tested were given the names and addresses of the guilty firms. The percentage of adulterants found varied from 7.87 per cent to 53.28 per cent. In view of the exposure made in this government report, it is worth while repeating in these notes a suggestion, made some weeks ago, that in cases where one wishes to buy seed and cannot secure it of a firm which from a previous acquaintance he knows is absolutely reliable it is far safer and more satisfactory to purchase only on the recommendation of the United States department of agriculture or on that of his own state experiment station. While they may not recommend any special firm, they will at least furnish you a list of firms who are doing an honest business and from whom it would be safe for you to purchase such seed as you may need. There is no phase of work connected with farming operations that should receive more careful attention than that involved in the selection of grass seed. Carelessness or penuriousness in the matter of buying is usually fraught with disastrous consequences.

A BROAD GAUGE FARMER.

The past week we noted a case of a progressive and broad gauge farmer who took the bull by the horns, figuratively speaking, hired a man from town to do his chores and took his wife and children and spent the week at the state fair. We are mistaken if the man himself did not have a fine time; if the faithful and hardworking wife and mother did not get a much needed rest and store up impressions that will help to lighten the labors and worry of many future days, and we miss it if those boys and girls did not have the time of their lives and see sights in the shape of prize winning stock and wonderful labor saving machinery that will tend to make them the more content to remain on the farm. This is a treat that a farmer owes to himself and the members of his family, and we believe it is fair to say that the agricultural inspiration which they will get from such an outing along the line of improved methods, better grain and finer stock will in the mere matter of dollars and cents alone more than offset the expenses of the trip.

NEW CORN AND HOG CHOLERA.

While there are many exceptions to the rule and many freaks of the disease which cannot be accounted for on any rational basis, the beginning of hog cholera epidemics seems to be more or less closely associated with the excessive feeding of soft and immature corn to the hogs during September, October and November. It is now agreed by those best posted on the matter that if the hogs are given a wide range on some fall feed and given but scant rations of corn until it becomes dry and hard much of the loss which results from this plague can be averted. In a sense this stuffing with new corn is but part of a system of feeding which aims to get the pigs into the market before they have a mature bone or muscle in their bodies. It is clearly a case in which if there were less haste there would be less waste.

BIG CLOVER YIELD.

One of the best clover reports that we have come across in many a day was given us last week by a good old friend, a substantial German farmer, who lives but a short distance from the writer's home. A nine acre meadow yielded thirty-five loads at the first cutting in the latter part of June, and thirty-two loads at the second cutting, which was made the last week in August. Our friend estimates the yield conservatively at five tons per acre for the season. One of the best things about a report of this kind is that no matter how big a crop of clover is taken from the land, the fertility of the soil is increased and not depleted. Neither this man nor his neighbors will need to be labored with to get them to see the advantage of the clover meadow habit.

A PRACTICAL SCHOOL.

The Iowa State Agricultural college annually conducts a week's school of instruction for public road officers during the summer months under the auspices of the state highway commission. The legislature has appropriated a special fund for carrying on this school, the sessions of which are largely attended by road contractors and builders and highway commissioners from the different counties of the state. Practical experiments are made in the matter of highway construction, the use of up to date road drags and graders and in cement culvert and bridge building. The instructors are experts who understand their business, and as a result practical benefit is derived from the school which they hold.

Paul O. Stensland Home, a Captive.

New York, Sept. 24.—The steamer Prinz Adalbert, on which Paul O Stensland, the fugitive Chicago bank president, is being returned to New York in custody of federal officers, has arrived here.

The following from the "Declarations of Purposes," of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry, is given for the benefit of the general public:

Declaration of Purposes of the National Grange.

"Profoundly impressed with the truth that the National grange of the United States should definitely proclaim to the world its general objects, we hereby unanimously make this Declaration of Purposes of the Patrons of Husbandry:

"United by the strong and faithful tie of agriculture, we mutually resolve to labor for the good of our order, our country, and mankind.

"We heartily endorse the motto, 'In Essentials Unity; in Non-Essentials Liberty, in All Things Charity.'

"We shall endeavor to advance our cause by laboring to accomplish the following objects: To develop a better and higher manhood and womanhood among ourselves. To enhance the comforts and attractions of our homes, and strengthen our attachments to our pursuits. To foster mutual understanding and co-operation. To maintain inviolate our laws and to emulate each other in labor, to hasten the good time coming. To reduce our expenses, both individual and corporate. To buy less and produce more, in order to make our farms selfsustaining. To condense the weight of our exports, selling less in the bushel and more on hoof and in fleece; less in lint and more in warp and woof.

"To sytematize our work, and calculate intelligently on probabilities. To discountenance the credit system, the mortgage system, the fashion system, and every other system tending to prodigality and bankruptcy.

"We purpose meeting together, talking together, working together, buying together, selling together, and, in general, acting together for our mutual protection and advancement, as occasion may require. We shall avoid litigation as much as possible by arbitration in the grange. We shall constantly strive to secure entire harmony, good will, vital brotherhood among ourselves, and to make our order perpetual. We shall earnestly endeavor to suppress personal, local, sectional, and national prejudices, all unhealthy rivalry, all selfish ambition. Faithful adherence to these principles will insure our mental, moral, social, and material advancement. We are opposed to such spirit and management of any corporation or enterprise as tends to opress the people and rob them of their just profits. We are not enemies to capital but we oppose the tyranny of monopolies. We long to see the antagonism between capital and labor removed by common consent, and by an enlightened statesmanship worthy of the nineteenth century. We are opposed to excessive salaries, big rates of interest, and exorbitant per cent. profits in trade. They greatly increase our burdens, and do not bear a proper proportion to the profits of producers. We desire only self-protection, and the protection of every true interest of our land, by legitimate transactions, legitimate trade, and legitimate profits.

"We emphatically and sincerely assert the oft-repeated truth taught in our organic law, that the grange—national, state or subordinate—is not a political or party organization. No grange, if true to its obligations, can discuss partisan or sectarian questions, nor call political conventions, nor nominate candidates, nor even discuss their merits in its meetings.

"Let the principles we teach underlie all true politics, all true statesmanship, and, if properly carried out, will tend to purify the whole political atmosphere of our country. For we seek the greatest good to the greatest number.

"We must always bear in mind that no one, by becoming a Patron of Husbandry gives up that inalienable right and duty which belongs to every American citizen, to take a proper interest in the politics of his country.

"On the contrary, it is right for every member to do all in his power legitimately to influence for good the action of any political party to which he belongs. It is his duty to do all he can to put down bribery, corruption and trickery, to see that none but competent, faithful and honest men, who will unflinchingly stand by our interests, are nominated for all positions of trust; and to have carried out the principles which shall always characterize every Patron that the office should seek the man, and not the man the office.

"We acknowledge the broad principle that difference of opnion is no crime, and hold that 'progress toward truth is made by differences of opinion," while 'the fault lies in bitterness of controversy.' We desire a proper equality, equity, and fairness; protection for the weak; restraint upon the strong; in short, justly distributed burdens and justly distributed power. These are American ideas, the very essence of American independence, and to advocate the contrary is unworthy of the sons and daughters of an American republic.

"We cherish the belief that sectionalism is, and of right should be, dead and buried with the past. Our work is for the present and the future. In our agricultural brotherhood and its purposes we shall recognize no North, no South, no East, no West.

"It is reserved by every Patron, as the right of a freedom, to affiliate with any party that will best carry out its principles."

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Pattern For a Neat School Dress Designed by Martha Dean—No. 4043.

The suspender dress which combines a washable blouse with a darker skirt carries out the same practical idea embodied in the guimpe dress, which has proven so popular. It is youthful and becoming with the soft light fabric next the face and very practical for everyday wear. The blouse shown is very simple with its few tucks in front and back, while the skirt is box plaited and very graceful. The suspenders are attractive in style and quite unlike ordinary ones. The waist and skirt may be made of one material if preferred and the suspenders omitted. For the medium size one and five-eighths yards of thirty-six inch goods are needed for the blouse and one and three-quarter yards of forty-four inch goods for the skirt. No. 4043, sizes, 5 to 13 years.

Pattern For Youthful Morning Gown Designed by Martha Dean—No. 4051.

So early is a desire for daintiness being developed in the American girl that even those not yet in their teens are demanding negligees of all degrees of dressiness. A suggestion for a gown of this kind is given and may be realized at little expense and labor. The front and back may be tucked or gathered at the neck edge, the latter being a bit more graceful if the Dutch neck is used. The simple bishop sleeve is given, as well as the shorter flowing one. Worn with an empire or Kate Greenaway girdle, the effect is most quaint and fetching. Among suitable materials are albatross, challis and any soft silk. The ten year size demands five yards of twenty-seven inch material. No. 4051, sizes, 2 to 16 years.

SPLENDID TIME DESPITE THE RAIN.

Valley Firemen's Convention at Sayre Proves Enjoyable Event.

The mere presence of a few rain drops was not sufficient to dampen the enthusiasm of the companies who attended the annual convention of the Valley Firemen's association at Sayre Thursday afternoon. All of the Towanda companies had a good time, returning at an early hour next morning.

The annual meeting of delegates was held Wednesday evening with F. E. Wass, the association's president in the chair.

The meeting decided that the next convention of the association is to be held in Waverly. The resignation of Union Hose company of Athens from the association was received and accepted. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: James Clohessy of Waverly, president to succeed J. McAsey of Athens; D. D. Tillman of Waverly, to succeed himself as secretary; M. J. Farrell of Sayre, to succeed F. K. Harris of Athens, as treasurer. It was decided to choose two directors, instead of one from each of the two towns for the ensuing year. E. A. Tilton of Waverly, was chosen to succeed himself and F. F. Smith was appointed the new director from Waverly. John Babcock was chosen to succeed John Dacey as director from Sayre, and J. D. Munn was chosen the new director from Sayre. The delegates decided that in the future topics pertaining to fire fighting, should be prepared for discussion at the conventions and a committee composed of E. A. Tilton and J. H. Smith of Waverly, and M. J. Farrell of Sayre, was appointed to prepare the topics.

At the Banquet.

At the banquet M. H. Sawtelle of the National bank of Sayre, was toastmaster. He was in one of his happiest moods and it was not his intention to let the toasts drag, so with each introduction he made a facetious remark that gave an opportunity for a jovial response. A mong those who responded to toasts were O. H. Lawrence, president of the village of Waverly; B. F. Dunfee the glib Towanda after-dinner speaker; F. A. Bell, attorney for the village of Waverly; William Cross, burgess of Sayre; Daniel Clarey, president of the Sayre Business Men's association; James Clohessy, president of the Valley Firemen's association and chief engineer of Waverly fire department, Dr. Lenn Betowski of Waverly; I. A. Samuels, councilman of Sayre; E. E. Walker, James Smith, W. W. Rolf of Waverly, John Hamond, chief engineer of the Sayre fire department.

Towanda's Dunfee Spoke.

Mr. Dunfee told of the fraternal feeling that exists between firemen, saying that he had been a lifelong member of a labor union that he regretted to say there was more loyalty existing among firemen and more true fellowship than between men organized to protect themselves from encroachment by corporate interests. This sentiment expressed by Mr. Dunfee found an echo in nearly every speaker that followed.

Towanda Companies in Line.

Mysterious Fish Disease.

The salmon trout in Harvey's Lake are being destroyed in some mysterious manner in large numbers. Each day finds dozens floating dead upon the water. The crew of the steamer Wilkes-Barre in one day last week picked up 18 and 11 on the previous day. The theory has been advanced that a fungus is responsible for the havoc, all salmoon being susceptible to a certain one of these vegetable growths.

He Was in Town Wednesday After a Strenuous Time at Jersey Shore.

State Fish Warden W. E. Shoemaker of Laceyville, was in Towanda Thursday afternoon and carried his left arm in a sling. He had been over in Lycoming county and up against a hard proposition in the shape of a freight train on the Pennsylvania road. However, he took his punishment from the train and then proceeded to gather in the illegal fishermen. The warden was walking along the double tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad where the channel of the river is being filled. Curves and a separation of the two tracks make it hard to tell where the train will go. Miscalculating when he stepped on the track bordering the river to avoid a passenger train the warden was struck by a freight going about five miles an hour and hurled down the embankment. He was taken to Lock Haven station where a physician dressed his wounds. His left arm was badly cut and he was obliged to carry it in a sling. As soon as the doctor was through with him he proceeded to execute his commission in that section, and gathered in three Italians who were fishing in the Susquehanna about a mile above Jersey Shore. They were taken before Justice Staver of Jersey Shore and were fined $25 each and costs. Previous to the accident the warden had been putting in a strenuous week. Warrants were issued for a number of men who were fishing with illegally constructed fish baskets in Bald Eagle creek.

The report for 1905 of the Pennsylvania department of fisheries snows that of the 58 wardens who did any work Warden Shoemaker stands fifth in the amount of fines imposed. On offenders whom he arrested fines were imposed to the amount of of $1,080. He made 48 arrests and secured 43 convictions.

PALMER IS NOMINATED.

But Cobleigh Says He'll Run on Nomination Papers, Nevertheless.

At a meeting of the Republican county committee on Saturday afternoon Congressman Palmer was selected to fill the vacancy for congress on the ticket, the Dauphin county court having decided that the Republican convention held in June had made no nomination. Counsel for Dr. Cobleigh, Palmer's opponent in the contest, was present and protested against any nomination being made, claiming that the committee had no power to act. Cobleigh's contention is that as the court decided there was no nomination there can be no vacancy, and that the only way a candidate can now legally get on the ballot is by nomination papers. He declares he will go on the ballot in this way and that he will run as an independent.

The fact that E. A. Coray was nominated Saturday night by the Lincoln party and that the leaders of that party will oppose th epre-emption by Palmer of the Lincoln party column which he obtained just one hour before Cobleigh tried to get it, means in the opinion of leaders of the Republican party that the Republican vote will be so split that John T. Lenehan, the Democratic congressional candidate, will be elected.

There are some who still hope for some sort of a compromise by which the district may be saved to the Republicans, but this could only be secured they believe by both Palmer and Cobleigh withdrawing.

STONE BALLAST.

Work Nearly Completed on Lehigh From Ocean to Lakes.

The work along the Lehigh lines which requires the services of the more than 400 foreign laborers, who slave all day at asks at which American labor halts at twice the price, is progressing to a point where the Lehigh will soon have the finest road bed of any trunk line in America.

The operations of the stone ballast crew are watched with considerable interest by the public. When this division is completed from Tunkhannock to Wyalusing the entire roadbed with the exception of a small stretch at Towanda where the tracks are being changed, and then this portion will be immediately ballasted in the same way.

Several Towanda and Sayre men are now employed in superintending and planning the stone ballast work, and the ballast train comes to the end of the division nearly every night.

It takes about 125 carloads of crushed stone to the mile. This stone is crushed at Henlers, on the mountain cut-off between Pittston and Fairview, and the men use about 19 cars per day. The old dirt and cinder ballast is first removed, all rotten and defective ties are replaced by new ones, and then the ballast is distribueted from the slowly moving train by opening trap doors in the bottom. A car with a plow or blade much like an ordinary road machine is placed at the rear of the train, and this spreads the stone out evenly and reduces it to the level of the tracks. From 100 to 275 men are kept busy at this work, and the estimated cost of the labor alone is between $6,000 and $7,000 per mile.

Before the job is left the track is to be raised an average of seven inches and the stone thoroughly tamped underneath the ties. Then more stone will be dumped to level up the ballast to the proper height. At the stations fine stone screenings will be spread to make a smooth surface to walk upon.

HIS MONEY IS GONE.

Trunk Containing $400 Stolen at Athens from a Laborer.

Joe Benint, a hardworking Hungarian who lives at Athens reported to the police on Saturday morning that a trunk containing $400 had been stolen from his residence at 116 East street the night before. The Hungarian and his wife have eight boarders and from them and from his labor he has been able to accumulate $400. He was hoping to add to this until he had enough to enable him to return to Italy and live without work. His story is that at 8 o'clock Friday night the trunk was in its usual place and Saturday morning it was gone. He does not remember whether or not the doors and windows were securely fastened and he has confidence that none of his boarders would have assisted in robbing him. The trunk contained some clothing besides the money.

Chief Walsh searched the home of three Hungarian families but was unable to find the missing trunk. It is quite likely that someone familiar with the interior of the house committed the theft for there were two trunks in the room and only the one containing the money was toucher.

SECTION GANG'S ESCAPE.

Their Hand Car Hurled from Track By Train.

A thrilling ride was experienced by a section gang in charge of foreman Callahan of the Lehigh Valley railroad, at Tunkhannock on Friday. The men were working on a section of track between passing trains. Knowing that a local train was about to pass the foreman ordered the men to get on the hand car and run it down the tracks a short distance, where there was a place it could be run to one side while the train passed.

The men all boarded the car but had gone only a short distance when the train was seen coming behind them. They pushed the car forward at their utmost speed, with the train gaining constantly on upon them, and reached the crossing in safety. The engineer slowed down his train also, but before the men got the truck from the tracks it was struck by the engine and hurled to one side. Foreman James Callahan was also struck by the engine and knocked to one side, sustaining injuries that necessitated his removal to his home at Tunkhannock. The pilot and pony truck of the engine were damaged but the engine was able to continue to Wilkes-Barre.
